The government of India launched the project for Development of Women and Children in Rural Areas (DWCRA) which was commenced in 1982 as an exclusive scheme for women, covering 161 districts out of 446. The scheme operates with 28,000 women's groups covering 4.6 lakh women. As pointed out in the eight plan document of government of India, The operation of the scheme had inadequate impact and therefore, failed in organizing cohesion within & among the groups to identify the activities that could generate sustained income. Considering the importance, Swarnajayanti Gram Swarozgar Yojana (SGSY) was evolved and implemented. Of women and lacunaes were in rural development programmes.

Implementation of SGSY Scheme

SGSY came into existence from first April 1999 duly merging the schemes of Integrated Rural Development Program - IRDP, Training for Rural Youth under Self Employment -TRYSEM, Development of Women & Children in Rural Areas -DWCRA and Supply of Improved Toolkits to Rural Artisans-SITRA. And currently Ministry of Rural Development, Government of India has initiated National Rural Livelihood Mission (NRLM) by restructuring Swarnajayanti Gram Swarozgar Yojana launched on April 1, 2013.<sup>1</sup> SGSY programme was 'Allocation Based scheme' on BPL criteria. In order to work with the new scheme NRLM, it is important to understand the ground realities existing with the SGSY implementation and progress. NRLM Mission will be using the infrastructure and ground work done through SGSY and improvise from there on by overcoming the short coming of the SGSY and focusing on the NRLM Mission related implementation.<sup>2</sup>

In 2010-11 a sum of Rs.148.04 crores has been allocated for the implementation of this scheme with a credit target of Rs.243.936 crores. In order to implement the scheme in a more purposeful manner, the following initiatives will be taken in 2008-09:<sup>3</sup>

- i) A major portion of the Scheme component will be utilised for the disbursement of the subsidy component of Revolving fund to the eligible SHGs formed under Mahalir Thittam.
- ii) To encourage the marketing of products produced by SHGs, Calendar of Exhibitions of SHG products for the Districts have been prepared and arrange the exhibitions will be accordingly conducted as per the schedule charted out in the Calendar.

- iii) The implementation of SGSY scheme was so far monitored by Director of Rural Development and Panchayat Raj, whereas, the Mahalir Thittam and Vazhundhu Kattuvom Project that also focus on the empowerment of women, are monitored by the Managing Director of Tamil Nadu Corporation for Development of Women. In order to ensure that there is a convergence of activities taken up under SGSY scheme, Mahalir Thittam and the Vazhundhu Kattuvom Project, the monitoring of SGSY scheme has now been ordered to be transferred to the Managing Director, Tamil Nadu Corporation for Development of Women.

The seeds of socio-economic empowerment for the Tamil Nadu Women were sown by Tamil Nadu Corporation for Development of Women Ltd., through Mahalir Thittam Programme, Mahalir Thittam is based on SHG approach and is implemented in partnership with Non Governmental Organisations (NGOs) and Community based organization. In Tamil Nadu, the SHG approach was started in small way in Denkanikotta block of Dharmapuri district in the year of 1989 with the assistance of International Fund for Agricultural Development (IFAD). The scheme was further extended to the erstwhile Salem and South Arcot districts in the year 1991-92 and further extended to Madurai and Ramanathapuram in the year 1992-93. Following the success of IFDA project, Mahalir Thittam Project was launched with State Government funding from 1997-98 and was progressively introduced in all districts of the state. The SGSY fund is used to provide subsidy for the revolving fund (RF) and economic assistance to SHGs. Part of the scheme component is also utilized for formation of groups and conduct of training for their basic orientation and skill up gradation. Up to 20 per cent of the total allocation can also be spent on putting up of infrastructure required for promotion of activities of SHGs.<sup>4</sup>

Swarozgaries

Under swarnajayanti Gram swarozgar Yojana (SGSY) , the beneficiaries are known as swarozgaries. The swarozgaries can be either individuals or groups. SGSY lays emphasis on the group approach under which the rural poor are organized in to Self-Help groups. In either case, the list of BPL households indentified through BPL census, duly approved by the Gram sabha will form the basis for identification of families for assistance under the SGSY.<sup>5</sup> The Self-Help Groups should also be drawn from the BPL list approved by the Gram Sabha. The scheme aims at establishing a large number of micro enterprises in the rural areas, building up on the potential of the rural poor. It is rooted in the belief that rural poor in India have competencies and, given right support can be successful products of valuable goods and services. SGSY has special focus on the vulnerable groups among the rural poor. Accordingly, the Sc/STs would account for at least 50% of the swarozgaries, women for 40% and the disabled for 3% SGSY guideline, 2003.<sup>6</sup>

The present research study is about the Poverty Alleviation Programmes on Rural Development with reference to Swarnajayanthi Gram Swarozgar Yojana. With the introduction of the 73rd Constitutional Amendment Act, it is believed that the Poverty Alleviation Programmes such as Swarnajayanthi Gram Swarozgar Yojana could be properly implemented in rural areas with the effective participation of the representatives of the Panchayati Raj Institutions. The present research study shows that majority of the respondents are not aware of the various facets of Swarnajayanthi Gram Swarozgar Yojana, the works carried out and funds allocated to the Swarnajayanthi Gram Swarozgar Yojana and majority of the respondents have not effectively participated in the discussion relating to the works carried out and funds allocated to the Swarnajayanthi Gram Swarozgar Yojana. The Government should take steps to train the representatives of the Panchayati Raj Institutions to have sufficient knowledge about the various Poverty Alleviation Programmes such as Swarnajayanthi Gram Swarozgar Yojana and to effectively participate in the discussions relating to the works carried out and funds allocated to the different Programmes so that Poverty Alleviation Programmes could be properly implemented and real Rural Development could be realized.
